Fruity Fun out of school!

Being dragged round the supermarket at the weekend can be boring. But next time you're forced to go, why not make it more fun by looking out for different types of fruit in different forms that you can buy?

Look closely at all the labels and write down where all the fruity products come from. Can you work out how far they have travelled to get to our shops?

Can you find any British-grown fruit products such as juice or food?
